

Here Ive been sitting in business class all this time thinking that competition is a good thing. Silly me, why should radio ever improve its position when it could have the government bail it out. XM is succeeding not because of unfair business practices, but it offers a better product. Dont punish XM fir radios misgivings.